Klipsch and Ojas Unveil the Museum-Worthy ko-R2 Loudspeaker at Milan Design Week

Limited to just 800 pairs worldwide, the handcrafted speaker blends 80 years of audio heritage with Devon Turnbull's visionary acoustic design.

Summary

- Celebrating its 80th anniversary, Klipsch has partnered with multidisciplinary artist Devon Turnbull (Ojas) to debut the limited-edition ko-R2 loudspeaker at Milan Design Week 2026.
- The two-way sectoral loudspeaker is handcrafted in Arkansas and features an exclusive heavy cast aluminum Ojas 1506 multisectoral horn paired with exquisite Baltic birch cabinetry.
- Ahead of the official June release, audiophiles can book appointment-only, personalized listening sessions at Milan's Fondazione Luigi Rovati museum from April 19-26.

Audio excellence is getting a striking visual upgrade at this year's Milan Design Week. Celebrating 80 years of high-fidelity heritage, legacy audio brand Klipsch has officially unveiled the next chapter in its ongoing collaboration with Ojas, the creative studio of
